ABOUT DISMAS HOUSE

Founded in 1974 by Father Jack Hickey of Vanderbilt University, Dismas House is an approved Tennessee Department of Correction (TDOC) residential reentry program in Nashville that serves men returning to the community from state correctional facilities and county jails. Dismas House is one of the largest reentry programs of its kind in Tennessee, with 56 reentry beds and 16 independent living units.

To commemorate Dismas House's 50th anniversary this year, our signature annual event, traditionally held as a luncheon, will be transformed into an elegant evening gala. The Forgiveness Gala promises to be an unforgettable evening, honoring the legacy of Dismas House and the changemakers who have been instrumental in shaping our 50-year legacy.
