About DISMAS HOUSE

Founded in 1974, Dismas House is an approved Tennessee Department of Correction (TDOC) residential reentry program in Nashville that serves men returning to the community from state correctional facilities and county jails. Transitioning from an eight-bed home to a 72-bed campus in 2020 (with 56 reentry beds and 16 independent living units), Dismas House is one of the largest reentry programs of its kind in Tennessee.

The organization's holistic approach centers around our four core pillars of programming and phases:

DAYS 1-30: HEALING

DAYS 31-60: BUILDING
